Subject: Re: Mt Hope Church in Loudoun County Virginia

These are from Mt. Hope Baptist Church. I visited and was wandering the cemetery trying to find my great-grandmother, Ella Thayer Alexander, and a Mrs. Wortman was at the church. We talked of family and she tried to help me find Ella in the cemetery and the records. Ella's stone is gone but I sent her a picture of one of my uncles standing next to it. While we were at the church, she copied papers mentioning some of my family and it seems members have added to what they have. I didn't get to see all of their records, but some of the records have been copied by the Thomas Balch Library in Leesburg, Virginia. I hope to go back this spring, If I find anything else I will let you know. But the records you have are from Mt. Hope. Joyce Rash

Dear Joyce,

In 2000, you and my cousin Ann Hennings exchanged information by email on records from Mt Hope Baptist Church in Loudoun County, Virginia. I've attached the first page of one of the two images she received from you and passed on to me. I'm trying to learn the source of this record and how you were able to come by it. It appears that the original material came from Goldie Maffett. The reason for the importance is this record is the only mention of Mary Baker and the wife of Peter Oatyer and I'm trying to trace Mary.

The confusing thing about the information is that I was under the impression that it came from cemetery records at the Mt Hope church but this can't be correct since most (or all) of these people were not buried at Mt Hope.

Can you shed any light on the history of this important document? I'd be most grateful for any help you can provide.
